

Computer Hardware and Security (Level 2B)

In this course, student will learn about the basic computer structure. They will first enhance their knowledge from Level 1 – Introduction to Computer: Hardware, Software, Operating System, and so on. They will also learn about the steps of building the best computer that suits their requirements. At the second half of the course, they will learn about the importance of computer security and how to maintain it: Computer virus, spy ware, ad ware, wireless security, and more security things that you HAVE TO know to use your computer without any worries. After taking this course, students will have the knowledge to purchase their own computer or even build one themselves; they will also know how to secure their computer so that they can use their computer safely and happily.