

Website Publication (Level 4D)

This course is the continuous version of its previous level – Document Publication. In this course, students will gain knowledge on website creation – different types of internet creation tools, website knowledge, and so on. They will need the foundation for Microsoft Publisher, and use that foundation to create a personal website for themselves. They will also get the chance to upload their own web page to the internet as a real web page for their friends to browser for. Come join this course and become the next web page master!